Corporate Membership Guidance & Application Form

Corporate Membership: The World Hypertension League (WHL) is open to corporations that are commercially aligned with the prevention and control of hypertension and reductions in non-communicable disease. Corporate members will be provided an opportunity to discuss and have input into the WHL work plans and will receive periodic updates on noteworthy WHL activities. Annual corporate membership dues are set at $5,000 USD annually or $20,000 for five years. All corporate memberships require annual approval of the WHL Executive. Commercial organizations that produce, promote or market tobacco, or salt for consumption are not eligible.

Benefits of Membership: Corporate members may provide brief summaries of their hypertension efforts for potential posting on the WHL website and newsletter. These summaries will be seen by WHL Member Organizations and others worldwide and will showcase the corporate members' efforts. Also the corporation's logo and name, identifying them as a sponsor, and any success stories will appear in the WHL quarterly newsletter, the WHL website, and the World Hypertension Day (WHD) Corporate Roster.
